With the threat of budget cuts and increasing costs, it is becoming increasingly important that we look at ways of enhancing our ability to provide housing opportunities for our tribal members. One of those ways is to leverage our NAHASDA funds by partnering with both public and private resources. Leveraging can not only enable us to provide housing through traditional methods such as new development and acquisition of existing housing, but also through alternative means of providing housing-related programs such as supportive services and housing assistance programs. This workshop will open you to ideas of expanding housing opportunities in your communities.
- 4:30 p.m. • Wrap-Up and Training Recess: Training Resumes Thursday, September 14 at 8:00 a.m.
